SERVICE AT OTHER UNIVERSITIES

2013 - 2015 Med Surg Faculty Committee CSU Stanislaus

TEACHING SUMMARY

- 2010 New medical surgical clinical teacher at a Junior College ADN program. Found my skills at lecture and assisting in skills (fundamentals) lab in addition to clinical work.
- 2013 Granted on didactic course in Health Assessment at an accelerated BSN program. Learned to create syllabus and weekly course work as well as computer based testing (Blackboard). After this, progressed to 3 courses didactic (health assessment, adult health I, and fundamentals), 2 medical surgical clinical the following semester.
- 2015 Began working with MEPN program as a CI for adult medical I & II surgical clinicals and CASS lab instruction. Really enjoyed the CASS lab experience as it provided me the ability to participate in didactic once again and utilize my health assessment teaching background.

RESEARCH AND CREATIVE ACTIVITIES SUMMARY

Most of my research has been in pain and palliative care of recent. I am fascinated with proper chronic disease management and education of patients and their families. Most recently, I have reviewing the literature regarding frailty and how healthcare providers are overlooking this diagnosis and its impact on quality of life in our aging population.

For my dissertation, I am taking my interest in palliative care and evaluating of knowledge base of nurses in long term care settings, both newly graduated and experienced nurses. My hope is to empower nurses in this setting to have delicate but necessary conversations with their patients about quality of life and advanced care planning.
