Academic Instruction (Overview)

CSU, Los Angeles

I taught 16 different pre-licensure , RN-BSN, and graduate MSN courses at CSULA, including serving as the point person for development of an Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Program from 1996-1998. I had very high student evaluations, and mentored new faculty in their instruction.

CSU, Fullerton, my teaching assignments have included undergraduate and graduate research courses, and student evaluations have been very high, usually exceeding the School average with high and very high student satisfaction levels.

Past 5 years at CSU, Fullerton: NURSING N595A, N595B, N597A, N597B Project Culminating Experience Courses, N598A, N598B Thesis Courses and N505B Research Methods Seminar. For the previous five years (early-mid 2000), I was the lead faculty member for culminating project and thesis courses. In that role, I oriented new faculty to these courses, review and summarized annual student course summary reports for quality improvement. I initiated a “Culminating Outcomes for Graduate Students” (COGS) web page to serve the students enrolled in thesis, project, or comprehensive examination culminating experiences for access to guidelines, support, and a final document archive. The COGS web page also was used for faculty communication about students’ work and to coordinate the diverse, off-site partnership programs affiliated with the School of Nursing, All Project, Thesis, and Research Seminar courses utilize a web course template (Blackboard, now Titanium)..

Grant work has augmented academic instruction in the School of Nursing. Two grants that support academic instruction in the School of Nursing that were funded in the past five years include the Graduate Assistance in Area of National Need (GAANN) from the U.S. Department of Education and the Workforce Improvement Project, Nursing Workforce Diversity, Workforce Improvement Project (WIP) Grant from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, HRSA, Division of Nursing. I have been the sole author and project director of many Traineeship Grants from the U.S. DHHS, HRSA, Division of Nursing that provide financial assistance for graduate students.

As part of the GAANN Grant, I wrote, received consensus and used the Teaching Assistant and Research Assistant Student and Faculty Guidelines for the School of Nursing. I also utilized the Epsilon web site for GAANN Fellow portfolios, initiated a blog site for student feedback about “best practices” that were shared by students as part of their teaching assignments.

As part of the WIP Grant, I initiated student peer mentoring, faculty-student mentoring, and a new School of Nursing Writing Center that is staffed by senior writing tutors from OLLI.

Thesis Committees:

Project students are part of a project course and are too numerous to be listed; below are the Thesis students that I served as Chair or Thesis Committee Member over the past five years:

Curriculum Development/Accreditation

CSULA

1986-1992 Wrote and gained approval for core Graduate Course Development: Theory, Research, Vulnerable Populations, and Advanced Decision Making

1996-1999 Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Program development/instruction

1999 Obtained National League for Nursing (NLN) accreditation for the RN-BSN program after a 2-year extension was granted pending my appointment as Chair of the Department of Nursing

CSUF (continued)

1999-2001 Initiated Kaiser Partnership to extend RN-BSN education across California that was a competitive proposal with nursing programs across California. I wrote the initial evergreen contract to initiate this partnership together with Kaiser Permanente. This partnership expanded the undergraduate nursing student population from 30-50 students to over 125 students in one year. The partnership has been continued.

2000 Obtained University and Chancellor approval for a new MSN program in the Department of Nursing, CSUF. Designed the new MSN Program and wrote most of the core courses and all of the culminating courses. Worked with Kaiser Permanente and UC, Irvine to revise their courses for approval at CSUF.

2001 Initiated a nurse anesthetist concentration in the new MSN program in partnership with Kaiser Permanente. I wrote the contract for this partnership together with Kaiser Permanente. All nurse anesthetist faculty salaries for the clinical and didactic courses are paid by Kaiser Permanente. This concentration is still part of the MSN Program.

2002 Initiated the University of California partnership to co-teach a Family Nurse Practitioner concentration in new MSN program. I wrote the contract with UCI for this partnership until UCI started their own nursing program, so students could receive a CSUF MSN with the Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) education through this partnership.

2001 Obtained the first CCNE accreditation and approval of the new MSN program, including nurse administration, family nurse practitioner, and nurse anesthetist concentration options

2004 Initiated the Women's Health Concentration in the MSN program, including WHC NP and Midwifery options

- 2005 Partnered with the Children and Families Commission of Orange County to co-develop and initiate a School Nurse Concentration in the MSN program
- 2004 Designed, wrote the budget, and participated in hiring the new director for the first pre-licensure program in the Department of Nursing, CSU, Fullerton (initiated in fall, 2008)
- 2009-2011 Coordinated a team effort to design instructional modules for teaching assistant students and oversaw the 6-module set of GAANN teaching courses conducted annually during the Graduate Assistance Areas of National Need (GAANN) grant funded by the U.S. Department of Education.
- 2009-2012 Initiated and Coordinate the new School of Nursing Writing Center with an OLLI partnership to provide senior volunteer writing tutoring assistance for nursing students
